

Free Job Seekers Support Group

You are not alone.

Looking for support during your job search?

Join our free emotional support group for job seekers – a safe, confidential space to share your experiences, connect with others who understand, and learn practical ways to cope with the challenges of unemployment.

Whether you're dealing with financial stress, self-doubt, the emotional ups and downs of interviews, or the grief of losing a previous role, you're not alone. Together, we'll explore these common struggles and build resilience through shared discussion and guided support.
